Big Conversations About Families

The books in this list are about different types of families or family topics that children might benefit from deeper conversations.

Ta-Da! : A Story of Egg Donation	Ella Kay
A heartwarming, clever, and educational story about a little girl learning how she was made with the help of an egg donor.

Families Grow	Dan Saks
A rhyming, light-hearted celebration of the different ways a family can grow.

Beautiful You, Beautiful Me	Tasha Spillett-Sumner
A child who looks different from her mother finds beauty and belonging.

I Can be All Three	Salima Alikhan
A lyrical picture book about a child who learns to celebrates her multicultural identity and finds pride in all the stories and worlds that live inside of her.

When your Daddy's a Soldier	Gretchen Brandenburg McLellan
A lyrical, moving story about a family's experience at home during their dad's time away at war.

My Single Parent	Julie Murray
Families come in all shapes and sizes. Readers will learn all about single-parent families through everyday and relatable situations. They may just find out that a single-parent family isn't so different from their own!

You are Loved: A Book about Families Inspirde by Sofia Sanchez	Margaret O'Hair
You are loved by so many people. Most of all you are loved by your family. No one loves you like your family loves you. Families come in so many different shapes and sizes - some are far away, some live all together, some have two mummies and some two daddies. Every family is unique!

My House, My Family	C. Hope Flinchbaugh
No two families look exactly alike, but every family is tied together by love. With soft, charming illustrations, each child in My House, My Family introduces their own family situation--from adoptive and foster parents to single parents, from urban apartments to rural farms, and from one-child families to large ones. Regardless of the type of family or the size of the house, and regardless of the child's abilities or past experiences, every child feels at home when they feel loved and safe.

Celebrating All Families	Abby Colich
Our communities are stronger when we come together and take time to understand, support, and celebrate one another. Learn how to practice inclusion, empathy, and acceptance in your daily life with these thoughtful books.

Just Like My Family	Ashley Molesso
Whether a child wears pearls just like their daddy, grills with their mommy, braids hair like their baba, bakes yummy treats with their grandpa, sashays like their zaza, dresses up like their bibi, or decorates their room like their brothers, all families love spending time together!	